I think Scrooge changed from being happy, to being grumpy because he was abandon by his parents and had few friends. All of this lead up to Scrooge being grumpy and mean. He used to love Christmas but now he doesn't care about it because he didn't get to celebrate Christmas with his family like the other kids, he just sat and read. Because Scrooge liked money so much, he didn't get to marry his love which flipped his life upside down, he is crabby at people that like Christmas because he never got to celebrate it in his whole life.
