

It doesn't affect me because not that race and I don't live there. Yeah, if fill badly for them, but I don't need too. Their not family, friends, and I don't know them. We the people in America need to stop wearing about people from different countries and weary more about America because we are not doing any for us, so we are dyeing off. If America dies off some other countries is going to take us over. We are losing money from giving them money. Thats why we are getting taxed more and more every day. If we would stop sending are taxes would go down by alot, because we would have more money. More people would have jobs too. Most people are losing their jobs because no one has the money to pay them for working at their place. Americans would be alot for the government if the taxes were not so high. I sent my Genocide to some of my teachers and names are Mrs. grime and Mr. Huntrod; This is how Mrs. grimes answered the questions. The first question was Does any of it effect you? She replied It doesn't effect me personally. The other question was Do you care about what is happing? She replied I do. Its upsetting that people continue to treat each other in this manner. Then Mr. Huntrods answered the questions. The first question, Genocide affects everyone. By looking the other way when this happens, a person becomes desensitized to the value of a human life. It then becomes easier to justify in your mind or look the other way when other forms of genocide occur, such as abortion or euthanasia.

Then the second question, Every human life has value. When genocide occurs, all life is devalued. This decay of the moral and ethical standards of a society lead to its destruction. We are on this path in many of the countries of the world. The United States is on the path of genocide. We currently allow abortions, and many want us to allow euthanasia. This is morally wrong. After reading what people answered my question it changed my way of looking at it. They both have good points; it makes me feel different about Genocides. Mr. Huntrods is right everyones life is important. Mrs. Grimes is right too, because it might not affect you personally, but you should think what if that was you and your family and friends. Its funny how one can change someones opinion on things. What do you think about Genocides.
